

Titleist Asset Management, Ltd. Social Media Policy

Titleist Asset Management, Ltd. (“TAM”) and its associated persons may maintain profiles and/or pages on various social media sites including Twitter, LinkedIn and Facebook. If you choose to “Follow” TAM and/or its associated persons on Twitter or LinkedIn or take any similar action on another social media site, you are providing your consent to receive information updates, including solicitations, from TAM and/or its associated persons. To stop receiving this information from TAM and/or its associated persons on a social media site, you must follow the procedure established by the site. For example, on Twitter, you must click “Unfollow” on the profile page.

The information contained in TAM’s and/or its associated persons social media profiles and pages is current as of the date of publication (or such earlier date as referenced) and is subject to change without notice. TAM and/or its associated persons has no obligation to update any or all of such information. Additionally, TAM and/or its associated persons other than the author(s) may provide oral or written market commentary or investment ideas to TAM’s clients or prospects that differ from the views expressed. TAM, its associated persons and affiliates may make investment decisions that are inconsistent with the recommendations or views expressed.

All amounts, market value information, and estimates have been obtained from outside sources where indicated or represent the good faith judgment of TAM and/or its associated persons. Where such information has been obtained from outside sources, TAM and/or its associated persons cannot guarantee its accuracy or completeness. Past performance is not a guarantee or reliable indicator of future results. TAM’s and/or its associated persons social media profiles and pages are not intended to be an offer or solicitation with respect to the purchase or sale of any security or other financial instrument or any investment management services. They are provided for information purposes only, do not constitute investment advice, and should not be used as the basis for any investment decision. They also do not purport to provide any legal, tax, or accounting advice.

Twitter, Facebook and LinkedIn are owned by third parties unaffiliated with TAM. These sites may contain links to information contained on a third party website. TAM and/or its associated persons do not endorse or accept responsibility for the content of any third party web site, and are not affiliated with any social media website. We do not expressly or implicitly adopt or endorse any of the expressions, opinions or content posted by third parties on social media sites. “Likes”, “Favorites” and comments should not be considered a reflection of client experiences or future performance. “Likes” and “Retweets” should not be considered an endorsement or recommendation of any security, investment strategy, company or individual.

While TAM may monitor postings by third parties on its profiles and pages, TAM is not able to review them before they are displayed, and any such postings are the views and responsibilities of the posters. TAM and/or its associated persons reserves the right to edit or remove any post for any reason and to block followers to the extent permitted by the sites. If TAM and/or its associated persons do not remove a third-party post, it is not an endorsement of the content.

TAM and/or its associated persons do not provide customer service, handle any specific customer account inquiries, accept customer complaints or enable financial transactions through any social media site. Never disclose account or other personal financial information on any of our social media profiles or pages.
